
New! Call to Faith–Talking About Touching Correlation Guide

Dear

I know you care deeply about the safety and well-being of the children in your care. I am pleased to share exciting news with you about a wonderful new resource that will support educators and catechists in making vital new learning connections between the Talking About Touching curriculum and lessons from Call to Faith, a Catholic religious education curriculum produced by Harcourt Religion Publishers.

The Call to Faith–Talking About Touching Correlation Guide was produced by Harcourt Religion Publishers in collaboration with Committee for Children (the nonprofit publishers of the Talking About Touching program) and religious educators from the Boston Archdiocese. The guide is a wonderful breakthrough for Catholic educators who are teaching the Talking About Touching program within a religious-education context. This material will also support catechists who are teaching the Call to Faith curriculum and are looking for pedagogically sound ways to integrate safe-environment education into their lessons.

Some Catholic educators teach the Talking About Touching program in nonreligious curricular areas, such as health or safety. Other teachers, particularly those in catechetical roles, seek ways to transition from religious education lessons into safe environment education. The Harcourt Call to Faith–Talking About Touching Correlation Guide will support religious educators in making these transitions, while illustrating the many connections between Talking About Touching lessons and the Catechism of the Catholic Church.

Should you wish to learn more about the Call to Faith–Talking About Touching Correlation Guide, please visit the Harcourt Religion Web site at <http://www.harcourtreligion.com> to locate your area representative. He or she will help you learn more about the Correlation Guide.

Should you wish to discuss the Talking About Touching program, please do not hesitate to call our client support services department at 800-634-4449, extension 200.

Many thanks for your commitment to the safety and well-being of children.

Sincerely,

Claudia Glaze
